EMPHASIS IN GLOBAL STUDIES: 2018-19

Doctoral students must be enrolled in a Ph.D. program and in good standing in one the following departments: Anthropology, Communication, Comparative Literature, East Asian Languages and Cultural Studies, Education, English, Feminist Studies, Film and Media Studies, Geography, History, Linguistics, Political Science, Religious Studies, Sociology, and Theater and Dance. Candidates pursuing the Global Emphasis must also fulfill the departmental and University requirements related to their degree program.

Global Studies is the critical analysis of interactions, institutions, phenomena, and identities that cross national boundaries or affect the global system as a whole. The Department of Global Studies hosts an interdisciplinary Ph.D. Emphasis with a consortium of participating departments that allows students to design a course of study focused on international and transnational issues. Ph.D. Emphasis students may receive guidance and mentoring from the Global Studies faculty as they prepare their dissertations, and the Global Emphasis is recognized when they are awarded the doctorate. The Emphasis is directed by Professor Jan Nederveen Pieterse in Global Studies (jnp@global.ucsb.edu) and supervised by a Coordinating Committee with members from each participating department.
