INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES MAJOR

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES MAJOR, B.A. – 2021-2022

To apply for entrance into the Interdisciplinary Studies major, students propose a program of study in three separate departments and obtain the approval of the chairs of these departments. The proposal includes a written statement that explains the academic rationale for the major, defines the learning outcomes of the major in terms of what knowledge and skills the students will acquire, identifies the courses in which the student will enroll as part of the major, and maps these courses to the learning outcomes. The proposal is reviewed by a dean in the college office and submitted to the executive committee of the College of Letters and Science, which has sole authority for approving admission into the major.

Not all departments participate in the Interdisciplinary Studies major, and some departments restrict the courses which may be applied to this major. Details are available at the college office, 1117 Cheadle Hall.

PREPARATION FOR THE MAJOR

A minimum number of lower-division courses as specified by each of the three selected departments must be completed. A list of the requirements for each department may be obtained at the college office, 1117 Cheadle Hall.
