

University of California, Santa Barbara
Program Learning Outcomes

B.A. in Global Studies

Students graduating with a B.A. in Global Studies should be able to:

- Describe the general history and geography of the global system.
- Explain the basic contours of contemporary global social, cultural, economic, environmental and political issues.
- Identify and discuss at a basic level major global and regional institutions, such as the United Nations, European Union, international NGOs, International Monetary Fund, International Criminal Court, etc.
- Demonstrate substantial knowledge of at least one geographical area.
- Analyze, compare, and criticize ways of addressing various social, cultural and political problems.
- Write clearly and persuasively.